

Here are just a few remedies for your behaviour management headaches.....

- You are part of the class dynamics, get someone to watch what is happening or video your session, you'll be amazed at what you see!
- Self-belief works both ways, if you believe in you, you can make them believe in you which in turns gets them to believe in themselves!
- Get active, too much sitting at tables breeds boredom
- Give choices for behaviour outcomes, you can carry on using your phone but this will happen or you can choose to put it away and this will be the outcome, positive voice, calm approach, the choice is theirs
- Never argue. You need to understand how your brain processes information, you need to move yourself and the student into a more positive form of communication.

#PrincipalHeadaches

We can give you all the tools to use and more!

'Unruly students stopping play?'

Not in my back yard!

#PrincipalHeadaches